FUNERAL OF LATE EX-MAYOR ATHERTON HELD AT THE HOME

The funeral of the late ex-Mayor Herbert Atherton, who died at his home, 11 1-2 North Fourth street, on Monday morning, was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were held at the home and were conducted by the Rev. L. P. Franklin, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, in the presence of a large number of the relatives and friends of the deceased. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful, among them being handsome pieces from the city police, the fire department, Order of Eagles, the Hungarian society and others. The funeral cortege was headed by the City Police force, and the pall bearers were William Wulhoop, Ott Vogelmeier, Edward Schaller, John Baird, Robert Zergiebel and Godfrey Stauch. A Hungarian society also turned out.

SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED BY LOCAL WOMEN

Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, president of the Ohio Women's Suffrage association, addressed a meeting of women interested in the question at Taylor Hall, Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night. Following her address, Mrs. Upton presided at a meeting at which the local women organized a suffrage association which will be named later. Officers were elected and a large number of women subscribed to a membership list.

The meeting Tuesday night was not largely attended probably because of the rain which fell after 6 o'clock. Taylor hall was probably half full.

Mrs. Upton discussed the suffrage movement thoroughly and if there was any doubt in the minds of her auditors as to the right of women to vote, it was dispelled by her forceful arguments.

She told of the movement of "votes for women" in its earliest days before the present day. She detailed the fight which was waged in the constitutional convention when the women sought to have their proposal incorporated into the work of the convention which was carried to a successful conclusion.

Mrs. Upton declared that the womanly influence in matters of state could only result in good, that the ballot needed the refining influence of women.

She declared that woman's submission to being denied the ballot was a result of evolution. She said that woman's weakness started when the world was young.

"I believe that in the beginning man and woman were created equal mentally and physically. When she was burdened with the care of children she was compelled to remain in the cave, but or tapse, while her husband roamed the fields on the hunt. As a result, the woman became weak physically, while man grew stronger from his outdoor life and exercise.

"Men then began to dominate over woman and abused her until in her weakness she grew to submit to the strength of her mate."

The speaker said that woman was now beginning to see the mistakes their ancestors had made and was seeking now to right the wrong.

She told of the labors of women in former years when their work consisted in making everything that her family used for food and clothing. Now this labor was taken from her by modern times and her full time was no longer occupied as in the early days.

Mrs. Upton declared that the safety of the country depended upon its individual citizenship. "Who is more responsible for such an obligation as woman," asked the speaker.

"When we are given the ballot," said Mrs. Upton, "the greatest group of intelligent voters ever franchised will have a voice in the making of the laws. We want the ballot because we are citizens in every sense of the word and we want to help make the laws under which we live."

Mrs. Upton told of the result of the enfranchisement of women in Colorado, Wyoming and Washington. She called attention to the splendid records made in these states. She concluded her address with an appeal to the men to give the women the right to vote, when the matter comes up with the other constitutional amendments this fall.

In answering questions propounded by several persons in the audience Mrs. Upton declared that she was not a militant suffragist and had no sympathy with the acts of London women in using violence as accredited to them in the news dispatches.

"However, we do not live in London and do not understand the situation," she said.

Later, Mrs. Upton presided at a meeting when officers were elected for the local organization of women.

The officers are as follows: President, Mrs. E. S. Randolph; vice-president, Mrs. A. T. Spear; recording secretary, Mrs. Eugene F. Ball; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Fulton; treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Cochran.

Announcement of future meetings when the organization will be named and the constitution and by-laws adopted will be made through the newspapers.

HAIL! SPRING SHE IS DUE IN NEWARK TONIGHT

The vernal equinox, which marks the beginning of the gladsome season of spring, is due tonight. She is scheduled to arrive at Washington at 6:21 this evening. The equinox, in astronomy, is either one of two points at which the sun, in its annual apparent course among the stars, crosses the equator, and is so called because the days and nights are nearly equal when the sun is at these points. The spring, or vernal equinox, beginning tonight, is always meant when but one equinox is referred to. The season of spring, astronomically speaking, continues to the summer solstice, which this year will begin on the afternoon of June 21. The autumnal equinox will usher in the autumn season on the morning of Sept. 23, while the winter solstice will commence shortly before midnight on Dec. 21. It takes the sun seven or eight days longer to go from vernal to autumnal equinox than from autumnal to vernal. The equinoctial gales, which often rage at about the time of the vernal and autumnal equinoxes, are declared by the meteorological wise men to have nothing to do with the equinoxes, and to be merely coincidences. No old tar, however, will believe this.

Tonight the sun enters the sign Aries, or the Ram, which governs the period from Mar. 20 to April 19. According to astrologers, persons born under this sign have executive ability and a faculty for commanding, and are at the same time capable of blind obedience when necessary. They are also of an inventive turn of mind, original and determined "set in their ways." Aries subjects are also said to be charming conversationalists, agreeable and entertaining unless aroused to wrath, when they make enemies greatly to be feared. The Aries person is usually well built and physically strong. Their principal faults are anger, selfishness, extreme aggressiveness and impatience. An Aries subject, according to astrologers, should marry a person born under the sign of Sagittarius, which rules from Nov. 21 to Dec. 20. Such a couple, the soothsayers say, will live a happy and contented domestic life and their offspring will be physically and mentally of a high class.

No Home in This City Need Have a Dirty, Discolored, Water-Closet Bowl

The household duty that was always the most unpleasant is now made easy. Sani-Flush, a powdered chemical compound, cleans water-closet bowls without scrubbing or touching the bowl with the hands. No matter how badly discolored, it will quickly make the bowl as white as new. It won't injure the bowl or plumbing--nor is it dangerous to handle, like the acids so often used.

One of the queerest magazines in the world is The Equinox, which is published in Paris and London twice a year, at the vernal and autumnal equinoxes. The spring number, to be issued today, will have a new editor, Mrs. Solomon Sturges, the wife of a Chicago banker, who now resides in the French capital. She recently accepted the editorial post in collaboration with the English poet, Alister Crowley. Mrs. Sturges recently gained some notoriety through the attempt of a landlord to evict her from her residence, on the ground that she wore costumes that were too scanty. Mrs. Sturges is a convert to Raymond Duncan's Hellenistic sartorial creed, and wears only sandals and a Greek tunic held on her shoulders by a safety pin.

Today marks the beginning of the Mohammedan month of Rabi' II, in the year 1330. It is the birthday anniversary of Neal Dow, American temperance reformer, in 1804; and of Charles W. Elliot, educator, in 1834.

NO TRACE OF FUGITIVES

Hillsville, Va., March 20.—It was a faint scent which drew into the mountains last night every man who could ride a horse and carry a gun, to locate the missing fugitives. Part of the posse returned weary and disgusted this morning and reported that the gang had not been found on Chestnut Ridge, where they were believed to have been trailed yesterday.
